Tiffany Wood, singer, owner of wired2sound.com.au

"My hottest fashion item for autumn is the high-waisted skirt in bright colours teamed with a black body suit and jacket."

Nicole Adolphe, fashion director, Cosmopolitan Magazine

"Leather is probably the biggest trend for winter so it makes sense to buy up now so you get to wear it for the entire season. Rather than just getting a black leather jacket, I am thinking paler leather: nude leathers keep the trend fresh. I'm looking for a tan leather skirt or shorts to team with a cream or black tank or shirt."

Annalise Braakensiek, model, presenter and eco-entrepreneur

"My must have item for autumn? LOVE!"

To celebrate the launch of Annalise's delicious 'Amore' lingerie, she is giving profile readers the chance to win a bra and brief set, RRP $73 for the set. Head to www.profilemag.com.au for more details.

Ali Mutch, presenter, producer, model

"It's time to tackle those structured, shoulder-padded jackets! Team with stockings or leggings and a great boot. Check out Wish or Urban Originals for the latest looks."

SANDRA NIZETTE

Designer Sandra Nizette has more than 20 years experience in fashion and as a fashion stylist – she understands that a warmer climate demands breathable fabrics, trans-seasonal styles and mix and match items that will achieve a smart yet approachable image. Her San Nizet range suits all body types and includes must-have items such as short sleeved jackets, swing jackets, a selection of five shirts and classic floaty skirts.

profile: What looks can we expect to see this autumn / winter season?

sandra: Something for everyone! Military, ruched detailing, frills and gathered features, layering and a soft feminine feel.

profile: What one must-have item should we all have in our wardrobes this season?

sandra: Do I only have to choose one? A great fitting black skirt – a few different styles for versatility, and for those who don't do skirts, apply the same theory with pants.

profile: Who is your favourite designer?

sandra: Morgan Marks comes to mind immediately and I love using Metallicus and Mela Purdie for layering under my San Nizet gear.

profile: How would you describe your own style?

sandra: I love dressing up to the nines and wearing sophisticated, eye-catching fashion and high heels to die for, but I'm equally comfortable in my edgy street wear donned in chunky German black boots. Or in summer I have 10 pairs of Havanas to choose from.

profile: What is coming up in your next collection?

sandra: It is continuously evolving and trans-seasonal which is the beauty of being an independent fashion designer, but I do have great shirt styles and fabrics for my business collection and funky cocktail dresses in my deconstruction range.

profile: What is your fashion fetish?

sandra: I am fairly balanced and don't give excessive attention to any aspect of fashion. I am able to sit back and absorb and view from a distance and I think this is reflected in my work. ■
